Wildlife & Parks

Sponsored by

Montana Native Plant Society

The BOW program is active in 40 states and Canada, offering weekend workshops to women of all ages who want to acquire or improve their outdoor skills in an enormous range of areas including fishing, shooting, archery, canoeing, plant identification, Dutch oven cookery, journaling and more.

Beyond BOW workshops are designed especially for women who want more in-depth exploration of a particular skill or topic.

Beartooth Botany

The Beartooth Plateau (actually an interconnected "archipelago" of high-elevation land) contains one of the largest contiguous alpine areas in the lower 48 states.

Differences in slope, elevation, rock type, and moisture availability support a diverse array of vegetation in a variety of habitats. The Beartooth Highway, US 212 between Red Lodge and Cooke City, gives easy access to this "living laboratory."

This course is designed for those with little or no formal experience in plant identification. Our class will be based out of Red Lodge starting at 8:30 a.m. We will spend Saturday in the high country, and although we won't be hiking far or fast, this class is rated as MODERATELY STRENUOUS due to the 9,500 to 10,500 foot elevation.

On Friday, July 13th, a FREE evening program will go over basic plant terminology, parts of the plant, helpful field guides and other publications, and more. Details of this "brush-up" session will be sent to you following receipt of your registration.

Requirements to Participate

You must be at least 18 year of age to participate.

Bring a lunch, snacks, and water/juice. Lunch is planned for a pullout area near the Rock Creek Vista Point where there are pit toilets (but no running water) available.

Dress for the ever-changing weather! It may be 80 degrees in Red Lodge but chances are it will be cool enough for a jacket and long pants up high. Afternoon rain showers are often an occurrence . . . be prepared.

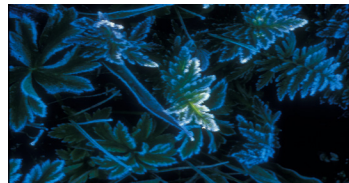

Good boots are a MUST! There are no trails and most of the places we'll be exploring will involve rocky scrambles or marshy areas. A walking stick or ski pole can be very helpful.

Handouts will provide space for taking notes, but you may find a small notebook helpful also. Feel free to bring binoculars, cameras, etc.

NO pets, please.

About Your Instructor

Jan Nixon (Bozeman) has taught Beginning and Intermediate Plant ID classes for the BOW program since 1998. She also leads botany and ecology field trips for the Montana Native Plant Society, Museum of the Rockies, and other organizations.

Cancellation Policy

The deadline to cancel is June 29th.

If you cancel on or before this date you will receive a full refund.

After that date, a $5 processing fee will be deducted from your refund.

Registrants who do not attend and do not cancel by July 6th will be assessed the full fee.

Questions?
